Dear Parents and Carers,

Re St Anne's School - Mental Health, Student Self Harm & the role of Teachers

As we take a break to remember 'Homecoming' I have enlisted myself to talk with a colleague at the Teachers Talk Radio tomorrow 'live' from 7am until 8.30am.

I am passionate about children's mental health as well as all things around promoting resilience and a 'growth mind-set' attitude to life and learning.

Having presented a show for a year as an undergraduate (a few years ago now!) I regularly contribute to this show.

Tomorrow, I will be discussing how children and young people from an Alderney and wider Bailiwick context, as well as, my wider experience as a Headteacher in the Falkland Islands and Deputy in the UK for the last 20 years deal with mental health, self-harm and our role as teachers.

The Breakfast Show
