Thought for the Week

"There is no trust more sacred than the one the world holds with children. There is no duty more important than ensuring that their rights are respected, that their welfare is protected, that their lives are free from fear and want and that they can grow up in peace." - Kofi Annan

Children can join or set up groups or organisations, and they can meet with others, as long as this does not harm other people.

Every child has the right to privacy. The law must protect children's privacy, family, home, communications and reputation (or good name) from any attack.
